All entries on a References page should be double-spaced. To save room, our examples have not been double-spaced.

Audio podcast recording, series, online

Fogarty, M. (Host). (2006-present). Grammar Girl quick and dirty tips for better writing [Audio podcast]. Macmillan. <https://www.quickanddirtytips.com/grammar-girl>

Host's Last Name, First Initial. Middle Initial. (Host). (Year-Year). Title of podcast [Audio podcast]. Production Company. URL

(If the series is still airing, replace the second year with the word "present." As of the creation of this document, Grammar Girl is still airing.)

NOTE: When you listen to this podcast, the host introduces herself this way, "Grammar Girl, here. I'm Mignon Fogarty." If you want to include the host's username in the citation, only enter the host's real name in Citation Maker. After you save the citation to your reference list, add the username in square brackets before "(Host)." The updated citation would look like this:
